W.R.K.D.C.

Memorandum [redacted] to Mr. Sullivan dated 5-4-65, captioned as above, informed of a call received 5-3-65 from Colonel Sovern of the Defense Intelligence Agency requesting that John F. Wolf of the Civil Division in the Department be granted immediate clearance for access to communications intelligence. [redacted] subsequently advised at 4:25 p.m. that contact with the Civil Division where Wolf is assigned had determined that Wolf is only expected to be assigned to this special project for 48 hours from this morning and that he would probably return to that Division before they would be able to obtain a form containing the necessary information. It was learned by [redacted] that this assignment had been personally handled by the Attorney General and [redacted] therefore, immediately personally contacted [redacted] who thereafter telephoned Deputy Secretary of Defense [redacted]. According to [redacted] advised [redacted] that an investigation would not be necessary concerning Wolf particularly in view of the short duration of his assignment. [redacted] advised that the Attorney General instructed that the request for investigation of Wolf should be disregarded and no further action taken.

SUBJECT: JOHN F. WOLF
CIVIL DIVISION, DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
COMMUNICATIONS INTELLIGENCE CLEARANCE

At 4:00 PM, 5/3/65, Colonel Sovern of the Defense Intelligence Agency telephoned to advise that an employee of the Department of Justice, John F. Wolf, had been chosen as a member of a Special Task Force on the Dominican Republic emergency and would require an immediate clearance for access to communications intelligence. He explained that Wolf was at that moment in the office of Defense Secretary McNamara preparing to receive a special briefing on the Dominican situation. He stated he had no background on Wolf other than his employment and his date of birth - 8/25/05.

[redacted] Internal Security Division of the Department, stated Wolf had been a Trial Attorney in the Civil Division for a number of years and has been employed by the Department since 1934. He described Wolf as a very religious man of high principles who could be trusted without reservation. Bureau file 77-10649 contains the results of a departmental applicant investigation conducted in 1940 concerning Wolf. No derogatory data was developed.

In view of the urgency of this matter, the request that Wolf be cleared "so that Secretary McNamara could continue with his briefing" the long-time continuous employment with the Department, and the comments of [redacted] this matter was discussed with Mr. Belmont and Colonel Sovern was informed that an interim clearance would be granted. The necessary indoctrination and the signed agreement will be secured by Colonel Sovern and forwarded to the Bureau.

ACTION:

As is required in these special clearances, a special inquiry type investigation is being initiated at once concerning Wolf.

OATH UPON INDOCTRINATION FOR ACCESS TO COMMUNICATIONS INTELLIGENCE

I am aware of the Federal Statutes and Regulations for Security regarding Dissemination of Communications Intelligence and I fully understand the instructions and principles set forth therein. I appreciate the fact that the preservation of the Communications Intelligence source is of the utmost importance to the United States and that the loss of this source would be irreparable, and I subscribe to the Oath freely, without mental reservation, and with full intent to exercise the most meticulous care in abiding by its terms.

I do solemnly swear and declare upon my honor that I will not discuss with or disclose to any person, regardless of his official position or status, any information relating directly or indirectly to Communications Intelligence or any information derived therefrom or pertinent to the nature of its source or manner of its production unless that person is currently authorized to discuss or handle information or material of the particular category involved. I understand that the responsibility for ascertaining that such an authorization is valid and current, and that it is of appropriate scope, rests with me. Further, when a change in my assignment or any other change in my status renders it no longer necessary for me, in the performance of my official duties, to receive Communications Intelligence, my name will be removed from the list of persons authorized to receive this material. I will, at that time, sign the prescribed oath.

I remember [REDACTED] commonly called [REDACTED] quite well. He was a college student that worked as a summer employee under my supervision at the General Electric Plant at St. Petersburg, Florida during the summers of 1968 and 1969. His competency, initially, was about average for a person from his ethnic group and, although shy at first, he came out and tried to learn and did quite well. He proved to be a pretty intelligent boy although he is no ball of fire. His earlier shyness and questionable competency was most likely the result of him having an educational background that had not been very good. At the time he worked for me, he was a student at Clark College at Atlanta, Georgia but he was originally from somewhere in Florida. He was interested in his work, he was eager to learn and develop, and he was always prompt on the job and regular in attendance. He would do what he was told to do, he was cooperative, and he caught on rather quickly. He showed no indication of resentment of authority and I noticed no indication of any radical or extremist attitudes on his part.

[redacted] was the young, flamboyant type that was out to make a big impression. He is the type that would like to be a snappy dresser and hold a good position. After his initial shyness he showed more tendency to be outgoing, extroverted type young man. I recall that an interviewer from our personnel office, a fellow named [redacted] visited the college campus and [redacted] saw [redacted] at a distance, called to him, was very cordial and acted glad to see him, and even talked with him about possible permanent employment with the General Electric Company after he finished his work for his degree. This apparently impressed [redacted] enough that he let me know about meeting [redacted] there.

I had no contact with [redacted] off the job but I believe that he lived in St. Petersburg with either a friend or some relatives, and it is my impression that it was with relatives. I have no personal information relative to [redacted] domestic status but I always assumed that he was single, as he never mentioned anything about having a wife or children.

[redacted] generally worked during summer vacation from school which would be from about June to September. I left the St. Petersburg Plant in August of 1969 and at this time he was about ready to leave to return to college after having worked his second summer there. I do not know whether or not he has worked at St. Petersburg subsequent to my departure.

From my observations of [redacted] his basic character and integrity are good. Other than the somewhat flamboyant type that tries to make a big impression that I mentioned earlier, I know of nothing that would be adverse to his habits, conduct, morals, or general demeanor. As far as I could tell, his activities were always within acceptable limits. I saw no indication of immoral or illegal conduct or activity and I believe him to be physically, mentally and emotionally stable. Since he showed no radical or extremist attitudes, I would have no reason at all to question his associates or group or organizational affiliations. I do not know what his outside interests and activities consisted of or what he did by way of hobbies. I observed nothing that would cause me to question his loyalty and I, therefore, believe that he is trustworthy. There was no indication of dishonesty or failure to take care of obligations and I believe that he could get along well with almost any type of people. From my limited knowledge of [redacted] I would recommend him as suitable for employment in a position that would be critical from the standpoint of our national security. b6 b7C at Clark and found him to be a reliable and trustworthy student. He was an intelligent young man and his grades were above average and he was never an academic problem.

[redacted] was single and lived on campus in one of the boys' dormitories while he was enrolled. He had previously been in military service and was attending college under the GI bill. I do not recall that he worked any at all while he was at Clark.

I had no contacts with him during the summers while he was a student at Clark. He did not attend classes any at Clark during the summers and I do not recall seeing him around Atlanta during those periods. His home was in Sanford, Florida and he went there some during vacation periods. He also had a brother who lives in Iowa or one of the other midwestern states and he visited his brother some during vacations.

I found [redacted] to be very stable and mature mentally and emotionally. He was very interested in getting an education and did not take part in student demonstrations on and off campus. I would have to rate him as being moderate in his thinking and actions.

He is a young man of good moral character and reputation. While he was at Clark he would take an infrequent social drink but I never knew him to drink to excess. He did not use narcotics in any form and was always alert and clearheaded in my classes. He was never a disciplinary problem on campus and I have never known of him being arrested or in any legal difficulty in any way. He always seemed to be in good physical and mental health.

I have only seen him a time or two since he graduated. He went up to Washington, D. C. to take a government job when he left Clark, and he has been up there since then as far as I know.

He was a member of a fraternity while attending Clark. I never knew him to belong to any questionable groups or to associate with anyone of doubtful character. I consider him to be completely loyal to the United States and I recommend him for a position considered critical to the national security.

Residence

[redacted] Housewife, [redacted]

I live in the house next door to the house located at [redacted]. I never have known any of the boys' names who have lived in that house, as they come and go so fast while in college. I can say that there has never been any trouble or disturbance from that residence for the past five years. The house is now vacant and I do not know who rents the house to the young college men and do not believe anyone on this street would.

INVESTIGATOR'S NOTE: Contact with other residents on [redacted] revealed no one remembers [redacted] and no one has any knowledge of who rents the property on [redacted] to the college men. The turnover in this neighborhood is very great due to most of the neighborhood being occupied by the college students.

[redacted] Realtor, [redacted]

I manage the apartments located at 1800 Memorial Drive, S. E., known as the Beaux Beau Apartments. I took over management of these apartments in May 1969 and have no records prior to that date. The apartments were previously managed by the Shaffer Realty Company.

[redacted] Shaffer Realty Company, 66 Pryor Street, N. E.

We managed the Beaux Beau Apartments located at 1800 Memorial Drive for several years until the summer of 1969 when management was transferred to [redacted] At that time all past records were destroyed and we have none of these records available.

[redacted] Apartment Manager, 1800 Memorial Drive, S. E., Apt. A-11.

I have managed the Beaux Beau Apartments since 1966. I have lived in the apartments longer than anyone else, and remember the years 1966 through 1968 when we had many college students in our apartments. I do not remember [redacted] and have no record of our tenants back that far. As college kids moved in and out so rapidly, I did not get to know them at all and only tried to keep the rent collections up to date. There is no one else in the apartment complex at this time who lived here as far back as 1968 except myself as we have a tremendous turnover in these apartments.

[redacted] I have been in his home on a few occasions and have found it to be clean but crowded. I am not sure but I think that [redacted] as he is known, was originally from Florida. He is a single man of good character and temperament. He is very hard working and jolly too. I think that he attended Clark College in Georgia.

[redacted] is an all-around athlete who particularly likes swimming. I attended a neighborhood party that he was also at and found his drinking habits to be normal. He has never used drugs. I feel that his morals are normal.

He has never been physically ill while he has lived in this neighborhood. He is emotionally stable. I have no knowledge of his ever being arrested or of his having any difficulty with creditors. I believe he is loyal to the United States, and I would recommend him for a sensitive position which could involve the national security.

[redacted]
I first met [redacted] in June of 1970, although his family has been residing next door at [redacted] for sometime prior to that. I see him almost daily because we play baseball together and also we have a common interest in math. I last talked to him about three weeks ago in his back yard. We were discussing drug abuse and from this discussion I can safely say that he has never used drugs. I have no knowledge of his ever having been arrested by police. I also know that he has never been married. His physical health is good. [redacted] is a very stable person with a good sense of humor. He enjoys baseball and other sports.

I have no reason to doubt his loyalty to the United States. I believe he is very dedicated to his job. He has never given me any indication of having a drinking problem. I know of no clubs that he is a member of. I would recommend him for a position which could involve national security.

Employment

NATIONAL BUREAU OF STANDARDS, Office of Security, Tower Building, Room 700A. Security file information provided by [redacted]

The security file of [redacted] reveals that a National Agency Check and Inquiry was completed October 24, 1970. There is no derogatory or further pertinent information contained in this file.

[redacted] Administrative Assistant, Janitorial Services Branch, Administrative Division, Room A721.

I first met [redacted] in approximately May of 1970 when he entered on duty. As his office was across the hall from mine, I had almost daily contact with him. He left the National Bureau of Standards in early September of 1971. He struck me as being a well-behaved, trustworthy, good-natured, and competent Government employee. [redacted] as he was also known, was an unmarried college graduate. He was a very neat dresser who possessed the ability to get along well with others, particularly women.

While he worked here, he was never seriously physically ill. I would say he is very emotionally stable. [redacted] has never been arrested nor has he ever been the recipient of any dunning calls or letters to my knowledge. I do not think he has ever used drugs, and I am certain that he has no problem with alcoholic beverage abuse. He is of good moral character. He has never given me any reason to doubt his loyalty to the United States, and I would recommend him for a sensitive position which could involve the national security.

[redacted], Assistant Section Chief, Janitorial Services Branch, National Bureau of Standards, Room A741.

I first met [redacted] in August of 1970, when he entered on duty. Although my office is not near to his, it made no difference because he was well known on this entire floor. He was a very dependable, serious and articulate person. He transferred to another Government agency in August of 1971. I assume that he is single since he never discussed either a wife or children. He is a college graduate with a degree in either computers or mathematics, I am not sure which.

b7C

I believe that [redacted] was hospitalized while in the service, but I do not know what the reason was. At present, his physical health is good. I would characterize his emotional stability as being excellent. I have no doubts concerning his loyalty to the United States. He is a factual person and yet he is also very direct. He does not back around and back. He has never had difficulty with either police or creditors. I have never seen any indication of a drinking problem on his part. I do not think he uses drugs.

1111

A rather minor thing that has always impressed me about him is that he is a very honest person. I got this impression from him because he is always very straightforward and he always returns any office equipment he borrows. He presented a neat, clean, and a rather mod appearance. I would recommend him for a position of trust and responsibility involving the national security.

[redacted] (Reference), Mathematician, National Bureau of Standards, Room B157, Building 228.

[redacted] and I were co-workers from the time he started working here in August of 1970 to just a few weeks ago when he transferred to another agency. He was a graduate of Clark College in Georgia where he received a degree in Math, I believe. He likes to play baseball and involves himself in social activities. [redacted] as he is also known, has a great deal of mathematical knowledge. He is also good at writing reports. He is a tactful person who has never given me any reason to doubt his loyalty to the United States.

[redacted] is a man of good moral character who is very helpful and cooperative. He is single and has no dependants. He is emotionally stable and physically healthy. He has never had any difficulty with police or creditors. He does drink socially, but has given me no indication of a drinking problem. He has never used drugs. I would recommend him for a sensitive position of trust and responsibility in the Federal Government.

b6

[redacted] Operations Research Analyst, National Bureau of Standards, Room A724, Building 101.

I first met [redacted] in August of 1970. I had daily contacts with him until August of 1971 when he transferred out of this section. I feel that he is a sharp mathematician who is articulate, honest, and energetic. He always presents a pleasant appearance.

I get the impression that [redacted] He once mentioned to me that he had a [redacted] He also said that his mother was [redacted] however, I think his mother lives in Washington. Other than that, he appears to have a fine character. I think his morals are normal. I do not think he drinks or uses drugs. His physical health is good and he likes to play basketball a great deal. He is very stable emotionally. [redacted] has never given me any reason to doubt his loyalty to the United States. I do not think he has ever been arrested or had any trouble with creditors. I would say he is financially responsible. I would recommend him for a sensitive position which could involve the national security.

b7C

[redacted] Structural Engineer; National Bureau of Standards, Building 226, Room B154.

I first met [redacted] in October of 1970. We worked in the same building, however, we never worked together on the same project. I have had a great deal of social contact with him. On a number of occasions I have visited his home which was on [redacted]. I found it to be a neat and comfortable house. Additionally, we also are active in [redacted] which at present is a social and financial organization still in its embryonic stages. We are both members and we attend meetings at least monthly. The purpose of the organization is to finance projects such as restaurant franchises, etc. However, at the moment, the organization is largely social as we are still lacking in capital. The last time I saw [redacted] here at the National Bureau of Standards was approximately August 27, 1971. At that time I think he was just visiting some friends and also getting his personnel record straight. He was transferring to the Office of Management and Budget. [redacted] graduated from Clark College, Georgia, and is also I think active in the alumni association.

b6
b7C

[redacted] is a very adaptable person. In any given situation, whether it is meeting people or handling business transactions, he is extremely flexible. He is a very forthright and outspoken person. If he makes a decision, he is willing to take the responsibility for the results. Even if the result is negative. I have observed him in some tense situations and found that he does not fly off the handle. His emotional well being is mirrored by his personality, which is always pleasant. He is so well adjusted that he does not need crutches such as alcohol or drugs. This is not to say that he does not drink, but his drinking habits are very moderate. His morals are normal by today's standards. I believe he is single and has no dependents. He has never had difficulty with police or creditors. I would say he is financially responsible. He is definitely loyal to the United States. I have the feeling he has the character and the ability to handle a sensitive position, and therefore I would recommend him for a position of trust and responsibility in the Federal Government.

b6

[redacted] Operations Research Analyst, Technical Analysis Division, National Bureau of Standards, Room A147, Building 225.

I first met [redacted] in approximately October, 1970. When he entered on duty at the National Bureau of Standards. He transferred to a different agency around the first of September, 1971. I have had some social contacts with him at office parties. I found him to be a very likable, informed, articulate, and productive individual. He attended and graduated from a college in Georgia. From what I understand, he was good in sports then and he is also good at them now. His technical abilities are good, and he gets along well with the other employees, mainly because he is very outgoing and pleasant.

Employment record information obtained from Mr. William A. Borders,

The employment file pertaining to [redacted] reflects that order: [redacted]

b6
b7C

[redacted] all in St. Petersburg, Florida.

He was hired on June 3, 1968, as a Quality Control Data Analyst. He was employed on a temporary summer basis and completed his temporary employment on September 13, 1968. He received a good employment evaluation and was rated eligible for rehire.

He was reemployed in the same position on June 9, 1969, and worked until September 12, 1969, at which time he completed his temporary period of employment. He was rated eligible for rehire. His file reflects no unfavorable information.

Our records reflect that [redacted] who was born [redacted]
[redacted] was granted an Atomic Energy Commission "Q" access authorization

1969, when he completed his period of temporary employment. He does not have a record of any security infractions.

b6

b7D

[redacted] Specialist, Personnel Security, General Electric Company, Neutron Devices Department, Brian Dairy Road.

I was acquainted with [redacted] as an employee of this company during the summer of 1968 and the summer of 1969. He was a college student attending Clark College at Atlanta, Georgia and working here during the summer months when he was out of school. He was hired on a temporary basis and his reason for leaving at the end of each period of employment was to return to college studies. I have had no association with him or knowledge of his activities since he left work here.
While employed here he did not work for me but I processed him through the security office and had an informal association with him around the plant.

[redacted] seemed to be a very congenial and nice young man. He was neat in his appearance and was strictly a gentleman. He did get some kidding because he was a young bachelor and somewhat of a ladies man. He would strike up a conversation with other young single girls here at the plant and seemed to be quite interested in the ladies and they in him. So far as I know he did his work satisfactorily and no complaints were received by my office about [redacted]. He had a good attitude toward security and did not have any security violations while employed here. He had access to classified materials.

I do not know anything about his personal life away from the plant. I do not recall anything about his residence in the area while employed here. He did not strike me as being a radical type of individual that would have any connections with subversive or other questionable organizations. To the best of my knowledge he is a loyal American citizen. I know of no reason why he would not be suitable for employment in a position relating to national security.

b6
b7C
b7D

[redacted] Statistical Analyst, General Electric Company, Neutron Devices Department, Brian Dairy Road.

[redacted] was employed here at this plant during the summer of 1968 and the summer of 1969. I had some work association with him both summers that he was here. I knew him only as an employee and I have had no association with him since he last worked here.

I was not his immediate supervisor but I did train him in some of his work here at the plant. He was a math major and he was doing routine data analysis work for us in the Quality Control Department. He did quite well here in my opinion. He was employed in the summer college student program and left at the end of each summer to go back to college. I think he was entering his senior year when he went back after his second summer of work here.

I found [redacted] to be a congenial young man and we got along real well. He carried out my instructions carefully and he was cooperative at all times with me. So far as I could tell he exercised good judgment in his work and the safeguarding of security materials entrusted with him. He seemed to be a serious student and in his spare moments he went over his textbooks doing some reading for the fall term. He was a bachelor and seemed to be quite interested in the girls about the plant here. We used to tease him about being a ladies man. He had a lot of girl friends and, at coffee breaks he would visit with them and he seemed to attract their attention. He was neat and clean in his appearance and there was no indications that he had any bad habits such as drinking to excess or illegal use of drugs. So far as I know his moral character is good. He seemed to be honest and trustworthy. I knew nothing about his financial affairs but there was no indication that he was seriously in debt or having any unusual financial difficulties. He was living in St. Petersburg, but I do not know anything about his residence. I am not acquainted with any of his close associates and I do not know if he belonged to any organizations or not.

[redacted] seemed to be in good health. He is emotionally stable. He did not impress me as being the type of person that would be connected with any militant, subversive or radical organizations. Our conversations were primarily just about work so I did not learn, however, very much about his personal life. To the best of my knowledge he is a loyal American citizen and worthy of a position of trust involving national security.

[redacted] Quality Audits and Customer Liaison, General Electric Company, Neutron Devices Department, Brian Dairy Road.

I was assigned to the Quality Control Department on or about August 1, 1969, at this plant. It was at that time that I became acquainted with [redacted]. He was a college student working here on a temporary basis during the summer months. He left to go back to school in the early part of September 1969 so I was only associated with him for about six weeks at work. I was not his immediate supervisor but I did give him work direction in some of his tasks. I had no complaints about his work but there was something that happened right at the end of his employment which I did not particularly like.

[redacted]
[redacted] I heard from some other managers here at the plant that [redacted] had made the comment on the program that he would not have gotten a good job like he did if he had not brought pressure to bear on the company. I am a company man and I believe an employee owes a loyalty to his employer. I felt [redacted] comments were out of line and he was unappreciative of the help our company was giving to him.

I do not know exactly what [redacted] meant when he said he brought pressure to bear on the company. I talked briefly with [redacted] who is coordinator of the summer student employment program and he indicated that there was some truth in what [redacted] had said. He did not go beyond that so I never learned exactly what [redacted] did in the way of bringing pressure on the company.

[redacted] right at the time he was preparing to leave his work here so I never talked with him myself about the matter. He apparently did not want to make such a comment earlier because I take it that he liked to get his pay check every week. He was what I would describe as a "wise guy" and he had a half-militant attitude. He was the type of guy that had an answer for everything and I would judge his overall attitude toward his work to be poor.

He did not take supervision well and he would question any criticism of his work with a poor attitude.

I have no knowledge whatsoever of his activities away from work. I never heard him speak of belonging to any organizations and I am not acquainted with any of his close associates. I did not have reason to question his honesty or trustworthiness. He did have access to classified materials and to my knowledge he did not compromise any materials entrusted with him. I did not have any reason to believe he had any bad habits. I observed nothing offensive or vulgar about his moral character. He seemed to be in reasonably good health and was emotionally stable. He never said anything against our form of government in the United States and I have no reason to question his loyalty to our government. What I did question was his loyalty to his employer and his job. I do not believe that I know him well enough to recommend him for employment in a position relating to national security.

[redacted] Specialist, Professional Relations, Personnel Office, General Electric Company, Neutron Devices Department, Brian Dairy Road.

I knew [redacted] as an employee here during the summer of 1968 and the summer of 1969 when he was employed here. I was coordinator of the college summer employment program and he was one of the employees hired to work on a temporary basis just during the summer months. He was attending college but I have forgotten where. I interviewed him for the position he held here and I had some informal contacts with him, during each summer, about the plant. His employment record here during the summer of 1968 was satisfactory and he was rehired to come back the second summer.

b6
b7D

[redacted] had what I would describe as "an attitude problem". It was not severe but there were a few isolated occasions when he talked sharply to his supervisor. He was sort of a "wise guy" type. His conduct was not severe enough for disciplinary action to be taken but I do know that I and other managers here would take a long look at him before we would rehire him again.

He seemed to be an intelligent person and he did well on his job with the responsibilities he was given. I did not have reason to question his integrity, habits or moral standards. He seemed to want to challenge the system and he had sort of a militant attitude toward the company. I do not know what motivated him to have such an attitude. We always bent over backward to treat him fairly and give him every opportunity.

He was single when he was employed here and he had private residence in St. Petersburg but I do not know where or with whom he was living. I do not recall receiving any complaints from any source about him.

He seemed to be in good health and was emotionally stable. I never learned of any organizational activities that he may have belonged to. I am not acquainted with any of his close personal associates. He had no serious financial problems that I knew of. I never heard him make a statement against our form of government here in the United States. I do not believe he was radical or subversive in his thinking toward our government. He was just a little cocky toward his employer. He had access to classified materials while employed here and to my knowledge he did not have any security infractions. I have no reason to question his suitability for employment in a position of trust involving national security.

INVESTIGATOR'S NOTE: Subject claimed on the Standard Form 86, Security Investigation Data for Sensitive Position, which he signed on August 23, 1971, residence from June 1968 to September 1968 and from June 1969 to September 1969 at [redacted] Petersburg, Florida. I cannot remember exactly if I first met [redacted] in the summer of 1968 or the early summer of 1969. It was not until about June 1969, however, that I got to know him real well. [redacted] and I and a friend of [redacted] lived here at [redacted] during the summer months of 1969. We were then all bachelors and lived here in this house sharing the rent. I have never worked with [redacted] and my only association with him was as a roommate and informally on a social basis. I have had no association with him since September 1969.

[redacted] was working at the General Electric Company plant in St. Petersburg during the summer that he stayed with me. He was enrolled during the school year at Clark College at Atlanta, Georgia. He was working here just through the summer months and left his job to return to college.

I think [redacted] is a real nice fellow. He is a veteran of military service and he told me that he had served in Vietnam. His family home is over around Sanford, Florida and he went there occasionally to visit with his family. He did not belong to any organizations that I knew of. Outside of our other roommate, I did not know any of his close friends. He seemed to be in good health mentally and physically. He had a good personality and was easy to get along with. He was majoring in math in college and he seemed to enjoy his work at the General Electric Company plant. They do classified work there for the government and I do not know for certain but imagine that [] had access to classified materials in his work at the plant. There was never any work talk around the house and he did not reveal to me the nature of his work at the plant.

I found [] to be honest and trustworthy. I had no fear of leaving money or other valuables around the house. He did not drink to excess or use drugs. His moral character is good. He seemed to manage his finances well and was saving as much of his money as possible for his school expenses. He seemed to be a very open and honest person and would get right down to the point of the matter in any discussion with him. He was mature for his age and seemed to have a sense of responsibility about his work. In his leisure time he occupied himself by going to ball games, playing golf and other activities of that type. I am sure that he is a loyal American citizen. I recommend him for employment in a position relating to national security.

[] Engineering Planner, Honeywell, Inc., 13350 U. S. Highway 19, North.

I first got acquainted with [] at St. Petersburg in the early summer of 1968. He was working at the St. Petersburg location of the General Electric Company and I was also employed there during that summer. I did not work with him in the same section but I got acquainted with him through friends at the plant and knew him on an informal basis first of all there at work. By the end of the summer we were pretty good friends and I had had some social association with him away from the plant. He was attending college in Atlanta, Georgia and returned at the end of the summer to his college studies. He came back to the General Electric Company again in the summer of 1969 and shared the rent on a house at [] in St. Petersburg, Florida with me and another friend during the summer of 1969.

I had a close friendship with [] during that summer although we did not work together in the same section that summer either. I have seen him only one time since the end of the summer of 1969 and that was in Atlanta, Georgia in about November 1969. I was passing through and stopped to see him briefly at the college. I received an invitation to his graduation about May 1970 and that was the last I have heard from him.

[] and I were bachelors when we stayed at the same place in St. Petersburg and we went out together quite often on a social basis. I think he is a real nice fellow and I enjoyed my friendship with him. He does not drink to excess or use drugs. He is honest and trustworthy. I found his moral character to be good. He did not belong to any questionable organizations and had no undesirable associates. He occupied himself in his leisure time in constructive ways reading and in sports. He attended a church in the city and sometimes on weekends would travel to Sanford, Florida where his family lived.

b7C

I found no flaws in his character and he seemed to be a real smart person. He liked his job real well at the General Electric Company and he safeguarded the classified information entrusted with him. We both held security clearances and knew that we were not to discuss our work away from the plant and he never made any disclosures to my knowledge, to anyone about his work at the plant. He was punctual and regular in his work attendance and had a sense of responsibility about his job. He is financially responsible and managed his resources quite well. He enjoys good health and is emotionally stable. During the summer of 1968 I remember that he stayed part of the summer with the [redacted] family that lives on [redacted] in about the 2700 block. Later that summer he moved to an apartment with another college summer employee. They stayed in the Bryn Mawr Apartments on 15th Avenue, South, in St. Petersburg. I stopped to see [redacted] there a couple of times and can verify that he lived there but I do not remember the apartment number or the name of his roommate.

b6

I believe that [redacted] is a loyal American citizen. I recommend him for employment in a position of trust involving national security.

INVESTIGATOR'S NOTE: Two residents in the immediate vicinity of [redacted] St. Petersburg, Florida were contacted and although both residents had lived in the area for several years they were not personally acquainted with the subject.

The investigation at [redacted] Petersburg, Florida revealed the Patio Apartments. The resident manager of the apartments advised that the apartments formerly were known as the Bryn Mawr Apartments in 1968 but she had no connection with the apartments at that time and they were presently under different business management. No record information was available covering the apartments in the year 1968.

[redacted] Ross Market, 2708 13th Avenue, South.

It was in approximately June 1968 when I first got acquainted with [redacted]. He was attending Clark College at Atlanta, Georgia with my daughter. [redacted] had secured employment at the General Electric Company plant in St. Petersburg, Florida for the summer months and he was looking for a place to reside while working there. He knew that my daughter was from St. Petersburg and he asked if he could stay with us temporarily until he located a place of residence for the summer. My husband and I agreed and [redacted] lived in our home for about four or five weeks I would guess. He met another young man at work who was also a college summer employee and he and his friend rented an apartment in St. Petersburg for the rest of the summer. I do not remember the name of the apartment building or the location of it as I never went there and I do not recall [redacted] speaking of it.

I do not recall having any further contacts with [redacted] after the summer of 1968. He and my daughter were just casual friends and I have not heard of her speak of [redacted] either. [redacted] impressed me as being a nice young man and he showed good manners toward me. There were times when he was alone in our home and I never worried about valuables being missing. I think he is honest and trustworthy. He has good habits and moral standards. I did not get too well acquainted with him on a personal basis as we were both working and did not have much time for visiting. I do not know of any organizations that he belonged to. He had no questionable associates to my knowledge. [redacted] seemed to be healthy and he was emotionally stable. He was financially responsible so far as I could tell. I believe he is a loyal American citizen. I recommend him for employment in a position relating to national security.

INVESTIGATOR'S NOTE: One neighbor next door to the residence at [redacted] was contacted but had no knowledge of subject.
